PLAR WORKSHOP

Clinical Case Study Tests

All grandparented members must be approved for PLAR by July 31, 2017 in order to continue practice as R.Ac or R.TCMP after April 1, 2018 in Ontario. CTCMPAO requires most of the grandparented members to demonstrate their occupational competencies through the PLAR Clinical Case Study Assessment Test. These tests are used to evaluate the ability of the grandparented members for safe, effective and ethical practice of TCM. In order to pass the test, individuals must have the knowledge, understanding, and the ability of diagnosing and treating patients with acupuncture and/or Chinese herbal medicine.

Purpose and Outcome of the Workshop:

- To help GP members to better understand and prepare for the PLAR Clinical Case Study Assessment Test.

Contents:

- Introduction to PLAR
- The Case Study Assessment Test
- What PLAR is looking for in the case study test
- What you must know in order to pass the test
- Example of Case Study Analysis
